L'Auberge du Soleil,
Sonoma, California

L'Auberge du Soleil Napa Valley, California

Let yourself breathe among the acres of evocative sun-splashed vineyards and olive groves of L'Auberge du Soleil, the Napa Valley destination that is a mecca for world travelers and local oenophiles alike. Sample a plethora of significant offerings from a variety of vintners, enjoy a memorable water ritual or relaxing massage at the spa, then savor the famous Mediterranean-inspired cuisine (Michelin-starred) that pairs perfectly with this quintessential California retreat. Evenings are perfect for a stroll through the garden filled with remarkable one-of-a-kind sculptures. At least once, venture into town for supper at the French Laundry, a little piece of Paris your taste buds will j'adore.

WHY YOU MUST GO: The ultimate wine country destination outside France.

WHAT TO DO: Wine tasting; take advantage of the world-class spa overlooking hillside greenery; make cosmopolitan new friends.

ASK FOR THIS: The wildflower honey-gazed apricots; a recommendation from the Sommelier.

Inn of the Five Graces Santa Fe, New Mexico

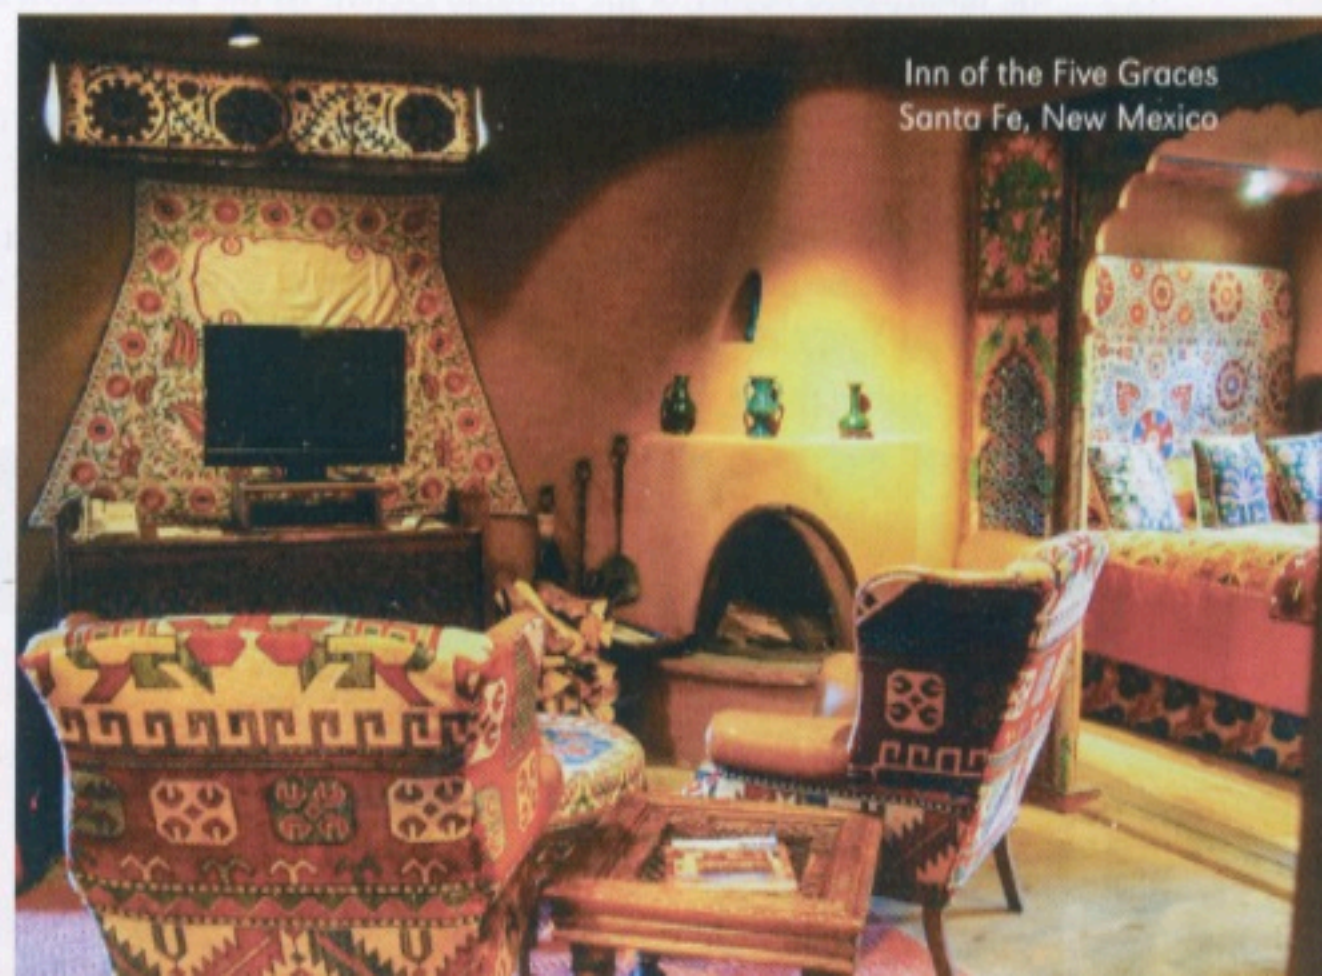

The Inn of the Five Graces provides a unique experience in the oldest continuously inhabited city in the U.S.: Santa Fe, New Mexico. The Inn is located in the heart of Santa Fe's historic downtown, nestled on a quiet side street near the Santa Fe River. Earthy, traditional adobe and stone exteriors belie the extraordinary sensual experience awaiting visitors inside, a sophisticated synthesis of Far East and West.

WHY YOU MUST GO: Because Santa Fe is an ultimate cowgirl getaway any season of the year.

WHAT TO DO: Make reservations for dinner at the Pink Adobe (right next door), browse the plaza, stroll iconic Canyon Road and buy an original work of art. In the evening, sip a glass of wine in front of the fireplace in your lavish room.

ASK FOR THIS: Breakfast in your room. You won't want to leave!
